

The Mountain Advocate.

NEW SERIES: VOLUME 13; No. 2

BARBOURVILLE, KY. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1922

ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

PROHIBITION A SUCCESS IN KNOX COUNTY

There will be but a few to gain, say the statement that prohibition is a success in Knox County. Those who state otherwise do not want to see it succeed, either for personal liking for liquor or for personal gain.

A big factor in recent months has been the work of W. H. Green, Federal Enforcement Officer for this section. When a still sends forth a breath on the breeze, Mr. Green seems to sniff its tang and, shortly afterwards, it is not there any longer.

Before he took charge of this work, W. H. Green was one of the strongest and most energetic members of the Law and Order Enforcement League of Knox County. Since he has been given active control of enforcement measures he has run down stills and captured those running them with great gusto.

The absence of liquor in our community has made for peace and quietness and an absence of crime that is a great contrast to the days when it was flowing for those who would drink. It has meant a larger purchasing power for men who now spend liquor money on their children instead of on that which brought misery and crime into the family.

While it may have destroyed the "personal liberty" of a few individuals to sell the devil's brew, it has meant the personal liberty of many a good woman who heretofore was at the mercy of a drunken brute.

We recommend the quietly effective work of W. H. Green in his effort to put liquor entirely out of business in this section.

In this connection, it should be understood that, if his efforts are not sufficient, then he has behind him the great power that put kishosh on the Kaiser and his hosts. In other words, he is being backed by the gentleman with chin whiskers, whom we call Uncle Sam, a genial gentleman until he is "riled" and who then becomes a swiftly moving buzz saw who will have his will and to whom the "personal liberty" plea is a joke.

If the present punishments do not prove a deterrent, it is certain that Uncle Sam will go still further to the end that the Constitution, of which he is so justly proud, may not be made a thing of ridicule.

This is a good time to cut out liquor making, else the buzz saw may get the maker. It is better to live in God's peace and quietness than to lose liberty and reputation in fighting the law, which is sure to ultimately get the law breaker.

FARMER-McINTOSH

The marriage of Mr. Charles McIntosh, deputy jailor, and Mrs. Florrie Farmer, of Swan Pond, took place at the office of the County Clerk, Wednesday, Nov. 8th. Rev. John Carroll of Artemus performed the ceremony. They will visit relatives a few days before returning to Barbourville.

SMALL ACCOUNTS

are always welcomed here no less than the big ones, for most large accounts were small ones at one time.

Whatever the nature or the volume of your banking business when you bring it to the First National Bank you are assured of uniformly courteous and efficient service and of that additional security which comes from our MEMBERSHIP in the FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM.

Let us help you make your small accounts large ones.

Honor Roll Bank

We Pay 4% on Certificate Deposits

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY

CAPITAL PAID IN FULL
SURPLUS FUND

$50,000.
$30,000.00

ROBSON SWEEPS DISTRICT

Congressman J. M. Robson

The of the Congressional District election any way was a triumph for Congressman Robson. He received a majority of 30,000 votes, even though he was a light, ds doing the usual figuring that was Mr. Robson's and what's the use of them. While we should have liked the full fighting strength of the District to have been shown, the Robson majority is a comfortable one and assures us of the splendid services of Mr. Robson when we most need them. Congressman Robson left Wednesday for Washington to rest up after his strenuous speaking tour.

OTIS KILLED AT TROSPER MINES

The of Otis Rice occurred at Trospers, Thursday, Nov. 2., while attached to the electric tell across his neck. Instantly, the mine where the accident happened, he was killed. He was 20 years of age, leaves a wife, two brothers and a sister.

Good mean better schools.

HON. SAM KASH HITS THE ELECTORAL BALL

One of the distinguishing features of the election was the fine work of Hon. S. H. Kash on behalf of Congressman J. M. Robson. In every place in which he spoke the people rolled up a big Republican majority and when he spoke he addressed a crowded house. In Clay county, where he began the practice of law, where the usual Republican majority is 1,500, the county this election gave a Republican majority of 2,500. Had Mr. Kash had time to go over the whole district the majority for Mr. Robson would have been larger than it was, even tho satisfying enough as it was.

BRIDGE TEA

Mrs. Edward Scent and Mrs. Geo. Tinsley entertained at the home of Mrs. Scent on Wednesday afternoon with a bridge tea. The rooms were very cozy and attractive with a glowing fire in the big rock fire-place, sunshine streaming in at the windows and lovely yellow and white chrysanthemums in abundance.

High score was made by Mrs. Russell Kauffman and low by Mrs. Gibbs Lusk.

After the game the guests enjoyed chicken patties, hot rolls, cake, candy, nuts and coffee served at the card tables. Miss Blanche Scent assisted the hostesses in serving.

LOGAN HOSPITAL

Pat O'Hara was operated upon for appendicitis Monday and is convalescing satisfactorily.

Louis Shoupe was brought in on Nov. 3rd with peritonitis, following a ruptured appendix. A successful operation was performed and he is now on the road to recovery.

HOME IN CANNON BURNS BOY SAVES LITTLE ONES

When Mrs. Dan Tuggle, of Cannon went to the barn to feed the pigs Sunday morning while her husband was visiting a neighbor, three of the children were left in the house. Startled by the report of a shotgun which was usually left over the door of the home, Mrs. Tuggle turned toward the house only to find it in flames and by the time she arrived there it was ready to fall in. While the loss of the home and the contents was a heavy blow it was offset by the fact that the eldest child, a boy of about seven years, had had the sense to rescue the other children, one of whom was a baby a year old. The hair of the children was scorched by the flames.

ONE STILL, FIVE MEN TAKEN

Friday last, W. H. Green and a boy went hunting and bagged one perfectly good still and five men who were preparing to make a run on Straight Creek. Not having the opportunity to make the run or to run with their legs, they were arrested both ways and will face the court. As a go-getter, Hayes Green is gaining some reputation. While it does not seem to have percolated to many sections that it is against the law to moonshine, it really is and the officers will get you if you don't watch out. They will if you do, too, so it would be well to feed the corn to the hogs and let the other game alone. It is too dangerous.

ARMISTICE DAY

On Armistice Day, November 11, soldiers are expected at the Post House at 10 A.M. Come either in uniform or out of uniform, but come. Am rations will be served.

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS EPISCOPAL CHURCH MEETING

Rev. J. Howard Gibbons, rector of the Church of the Ascension at Frankfort, outlined the work of the Episcopal Church in America and over the world at a meeting of the members of that church here on last Tuesday afternoon.

He said the missionary work is nothing more or less than the work of Christ and no one is a fully rounded disciple who does not have the missionary spirit. Missionary work means work over the whole world according to the divine command. The only hope for the mental, social and religious life of the world is the gospel of Jesus Christ. The keynote of the whole situation is stewardship. We cannot say truly "this is mine" since nothing belongs to us but all to God. We are but stewards of life, time and our means. God has given us the blessing of the gospel and we should give this blessing back to others. Faithful stewardship will show to others what God has done for us. If there is one set of people who should meet their obligations, it is Church people, since our promises are made to God and not to man.

$21,000,000 is asked by the Episcopal Church for the next three years and it is the desire to interest every church man, woman and child in raising the amount to the end that the work now being done may be carried on and extended.

November 26th is set as Every Member Canvass Day.

The speaker gave some interesting points on missionary fields.

OVERALL FACTORY BUSINESS GROWING

W. H. Detherage, of the overall factory, reports business good and the customers pleased with the output of the factory. This factory is growing nicely under the management of Mr. Detherage. Its growth will be a source of satisfaction to our business men as it turns considerable money into circulation. Mr. Detherage states that the manager of the suspender factory at Middleshoro was here to see him on business recently and it turned out that he is the son of the owner of the firm which supplies Mr. Detherage with denim, the headquarters being in Massachusetts and the visitor told Mr. Detherage that the placing of the suspender factory in Middleshoro was the direct action of the Kiwanis Club of that city. It just proves what may be done.

ELECTION OF CITY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Three members of the Board of Education were elected under the law this year. These were Robert W. Cole, Mrs. L. L. Richardson and W. R. Riley, who were re-elected without opposition. All of them have done good, conscientious work during their past term, which was the reason the compliment of no opposition was rendered them.

SUNDAY EVENING CONCERT DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

The first Sunday evening concert given under the direction of Miss Mae Carter, the new music director of the Christian Church, drew a crowd that taxed the capacity of the building. In a program so well balanced and delightful in every detail, it is impossible to single out any number as worthy of especial mention.

The choir selection was well chosen and rendered with strength and precision. Mrs. C. F. Rathfon, as soloist, was in splendid voice and as usual delighted her audience. The duets by Misses Morehead and Morris were beautifully rendered. These young ladies possess well trained voices that blend and harmonize superbly. An unusual feature of this program and one that called forth many expressions of pleasure from the audience was the musical reading by Mrs. George F. Tinsley. In this number Mrs. Tinsley held her audience spellbound by her dramatic portrayal of the role of an old violinist who loved his violin even unto death.

It is only fair to say, however, that the greatest interest centered in the group of organ numbers by Miss Carter. These numbers were chosen with that good taste and feeling, and played with that attention to detail which distinguish the real organist. This was Miss Carter's first appearance in pipe organ recital in Barbourville and those who heard her are loud in declaring her a master of pipe organ technique, and that she more than lived up to her reputation as a musician of the first rank.

Music lovers will be glad to know that this is only the first of a series of Sunday evening concerts which the Christian Church has planned for the winter months.

WOMAN'S STUDY CLUB

The Woman's Study Club held their regular meeting on last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. W. Scent. After the business of the day, the Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Tuggle took charge of the program. Mrs. Tuggle had a very interesting and helpful paper on gardens. During the social hour the hostess served a delicious salad course. Club members journeyed to meet with Mrs. D. Herndon on Nov. 14.

JACKSON

Uncle Godfrey Jackson, 97 years of age, of Long Branch, Knox County, died at his home Tuesday, Nov. 7th. Deceased was a veteran of the Civil War and had a host of friends over the county, befitting one of those who smile their way thru life with a good word for everyone. It is said of Mr. Jackson that he never was known to speak a harsh word, which is a record much to be desired.

Besides his wife, a large number of sons, daughters and grandchildren survive. The funeral was held Wednesday in the family graveyard.

An Old Chinese Proverb
"IF YOU WALK ON SNOW YOU CAN-NOT HIDE YOUR FOOTPRINTS.
A PROVERB IN THE MAKING
"IF YOU ARE THRIFTLESS YOU CAN-NOT HIDE THE FACT"

Traces of a thriftless habit will inevitably show up with the result that you will always be hard up while you are making money and be a charge upon charity or relatives when you cannot earn.

THE UNFAILING SIGN OF THRIFT IS A SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Open your account today with $1.00 or more, we pay you 4% and all taxes on Savings Accounts. Maybe you would like to have $1,000 in ten years from now if you live, or if you die you would like your loved ones to have the $1,000 at your death, if so then

THE VICTORY SAVINGS ACCOUNT IS THE ANSWER

THE NATIONAL BANK OF JOHN A. BLACK

THE ADVOCATE
FRED BURMAN
EDITOR
JENNIE McDERMID BURMAN
ASSOCIATE EDITOR
Issued weekly by The Mountain Advocate Publishing Co., at BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY

Entered at the Post Office at Barbourville, Ky., as second-class mail matter.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE RE-PUBLICAN PARTY IN KNOX COUNTY

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
(Strictly in advance)
One Year $1.50
Six Months $0.75

Any item intended for publication should reach this office not later than on Wednesday or we shall be forced to carry it over to the next issue.

L. D. SAMPSON PUTS OVER ANOTHER ENTERPRISE

The Newark, New Jersey, Athletic Club gave an informal reception to its members on November 1st in its building which is nearly completed. Mr. Lewis D. Sampson, brother of Judge F. D. Sampson of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, was the organizer of the Newark Athletic Club. He created and executed the plan for procuring the members.
Beginning with the day in 1919 on which he was engaged to build up a large membership, he advanced every cent of money laid out until such time as the club was able to meet its own obligations.

When Mr. Sampson was employed by the president of the Club, there was no money in the treasury and the club had a total of 31 members.
Mr. Sampson's plan and work resulted in more than 2,700 members, each of whom pledged himself to pay an initiation fee of not less than $100.00. The club's ground and building represents an investment of about $2,000,000.

President Edward D. Duffield, of the Prudential Insurance Company of Newark, a member of the Board of Governors of the Newark Athletic Club, was one of the speakers at the informal reception November 1.
He spoke of the great benefit the club would be to Newark, a city of nearly half a million people.

Among other things he said:
"This club should awaken a town that has slept too long. The club will make for a live citizenship that has the interests of the city at heart and will work for Newark. It will be a great thing to feel that we haven't served only our own selfish interests in the establishment of the club. What we have done here is done that Newark and all that it means should be a realization and not a dream."

DRAMATIC SOCIETY READING

Miss Murphy will give a reading of Sir James Barrie's one act play,
"The Twelve Pound Look" before the Union College Dramatic Society.

EXPRESSION RECITAL

Union College Chapel

Friday, November 10, 1922

7:30 O'clock

"Tomlinson" Rudyard Kipling
Cecil Byrley
"Aunt Jerusha's Meditation" Dummis
Carolyn Stanfill
"The Substitute" Bernice Humfleet
Planologue
Ruth Bowman Nan Lawson
"Escorting Harriet" Eleanor H. Porter
Evelyn Black
"Biff Perkins Toboggan Slide" Nan Lawson
"Mrs. Puffer's Windfall" Ruth Bowman

LUDEN'S
MENTHOL COUGH DROPS
for nose and throat
Give Quick Relief

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Hall of LaBelle Lodge,
No. 59, I. O. O. F.
WHEREAS God in his Infinite Wisdom and goodness has removed our Brother Sawyer M. Smith from the walks of life to the realm of rest and joy in the Spirit world;
While with us as a member of Odd-Fellowship his wise council and energetic work made him a power for usefulness and his loss will be sorely felt by all.

Therefore, he it resolved that in his decease his family has lost a friend and faithful supporter; his Lodge and Church a faithful Christian member; but we console ourselves with the thought that our loss is his eternal gain and happiness.

It is ordered by the Lodge that the Mountain Advocate print these proceedings and that a copy of the same be spread upon the records of this Lodge and a copy be sent the family of the deceased.

Done by order of the Lodge.

George Jackson,
J. H. Blackburn,
Hohart Williams.

UNION COLLEGE NOTES

The first victory of our football team was won on the Yellow Jacket's field at Middlesboro Saturday, Nov. 4 to the tune of 26 to 12. The hard work of our boys and the excellent training of Coach Tros-per are beginning to show good results.

The inter-class basketball games at the gym. Saturday night were the first games of the season. They were very interesting and we are looking forward to many interesting ones during the coming season.

Maude Elliott, a former student of Union College, and her friend visited her brother Sunday.

Anna Mae Smith is back in school
after a slight illness.

Margaret Wilson, Marie Jackson,
Opal Gray, Ellen Howard, B. F.
Webb and Robert Weed visited their homes over the week end.

Etta Howard, a former student, has entered school again as an Academy Senior.

Mr and Mrs. Collie Franklin and son are spending a few days with their relatives and friends on the campus.

"Impossibilities are merely the half hearted efforts of quitters."

Friday, Nov. 17 at 6 o'clock. This is said to be the most perfect one act play in contemporary dramas.
The public is cordially invited to attend free of charge.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday November 12th.

11 o'clock worship and sermon.
"The Religion of Common-sense."
7:15 in the evening, "Playing with Dynamite." If you like good music and friendly people you will enjoy our services. Arthur Ford, Pastor.
Mao Carter, Pipe-organist.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING

Mrs. B. P. Jones was hostess to the Civic League on Thursday Nov.
2nd.

Reports were read of the District meeting held in Middlesboro which was one of the most helpful and successful meetings ever held in the district.

President Mrs. J. R. Tuggle has outlined five departments of work with committees for each department.

Press and Publicity,
Community Welfare,
School yards and play grounds
Philanthropy,
Music.

With splendid and enthusiastic workers in charge of each department the League hopes to accomplish more this year than over before.

If you are not now a member of this organization come to the next meeting at Mrs. Guy L. Dickenson's home, and we will be very glad to welcome you and enroll you as a member.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Intermediate League meeting to-night with Lucy Garrard.
Cottage Prayer Meeting to-mor-
(Friday) at the home of P.
Peavy.

Sunday, November 12th:
Sunday School at 9:30.
Epworth League at 6:15 in Sunday School room.

At 11 o'clock the pastor, Rev. J.
John Owen Gross will speak the "Marks of a Little Soul." In the evening at 7 "The teaching of Jesus concerning divorce." In view of fact that the whole social fabric of the nation is being threatened by the ever increasing number of divorces and disruption of the America can home the question of divorce is one of the most vital. Special music at both services Sunday.

Thin? Run-down?
Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells.
The Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many because they are under weight?
Because to be under weight often low fighting-power in the body. It means you are minus nerve-power, red-cells in your blood, minus minus energy, minus vitality. It means to be minus, but the more That's increase the number of your red cells, you begin to become plus. Women, why S. S. S. since 1820, has made thousands of underweight men and a pins in their strength. Hollow fill out. You stop being a calamity

You inspire confidence. Your body to the point of power, your flesh firmer, the age lines that come ness disappear. You look younger happier, and you feel it, too, all body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. you look build them. Ladies and gentlemen, take peaky, bony face doesn't make vegetable very important or pretty, does it? Sold at
S. S. S. It contains only pure medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is all drug stores in two sizes. The size bottle is the more economical
S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

UNION BEATS MIDDLES

On Saturday Union College football team defeated Middlesboro High School and a fine game followed. Played also one of the cleanest ever in that city.

The score first half was 14-6 in favor of Union the total score of the ing Union 26-12 at the end game.

Golden for his fine hushtantly Capt. Butte for his comarker as good generalship, also Park. In half-back, did splendidly wored in a fact, the whole team played a thrill manner beyond criticism. The caught of the game was when Nashty yard a forward pass, made a lid of the run and came within a yard goal.

The Middlesboro boys good clean game but were out-weighted.

For Sale—Stock and Lewis Drug Co., for sale,
salo, owner leaving town.

E. T. England & Co. n

J. Perry 80, is Coun. Milliff
Gain. Lbs.

The fact that John S. Perry, 2464 Lawson, Toledo, Ohio, is eighty years old does not prevent him from actively serving as hallit of Lucas Co. Court of Appeals, for he is as hale and hearty as most men many years younger.
Being asked recently regarding his robust health and unusual energy,
Mr. Perry said:

"You can give the credit to this medicine (all Tanlac). It has put me in better shape physically than I have been in more than forty years. In fact, I came out of the Civil War all run down and had not known a real day until after taking Tanlac. I was of late my stomach was all out of fix and I had grown so weak I had to sit down most of the time. Don't feel a day over sixty-five now and my friends all say I look better than they ever saw me. Besides putting me in good health Tanlac has also increased my weight 15 pounds."

Tanlac is sold at all good druggists.—Adv.

REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN CONGRESS IS REDUCED

A national election resembles a horse race in that it is all guess work until over. However, indications are that Congress will remain Republican with a reduced majority.
The present election so far as Kentucky is concerned, brought no change in Republican or Democratic majority. New York has gone entirely Democratic.

A feature of the election is that a number of old hard Republicans and come Democrats have been defeated.

Volstead was defeated but Congress remains safe. Ohio beat the wine and beer move.

GEORGE LEE ACQUITTED

Tried in Laurel Circuit Court last week for the killing of Neal Christian in Wallins Creek some months ago, George Lee was declared not guilty. The defense claimed self defense.

Judge J. D. Tingle attended Federal Court in Lexington this week.

Art needlework at England's, stamped pillow cases, towels, etc.
2-1t

For Sale - A Player Piano - Call
Model Bakery to inspect. 1-4t

A new line of paperies at England's. 2-1t

Piano For Sale - In good condition, new. See Mrs. Joe. E. Payne, Allison Ave. 1-1t.

Sincere is he whose lips speak
what his heart feels.

STRICTLY TAILORED SUIT

A coat 36 inches long, with inverted plaits at the shoulders and back, and a plain, straight skirt, compose this strictly tailored suit of tricotine.
Stitchings of silk floss in neat rows, ornament the coat and sleeves and house buttons of generous size down the front and on the sleeves, emphasize the tailored style that distinguishes suits of this type. The convertible collar is made of real plush.

SHOO

The High Cost of Living
by having your shoes repaired by the speedy,
up-to-date methods and with the good leather used at
The City Shoe Shop

FRESH GOODS

Sanitary Conditions With Courteous Service

Have been big factors in the building up of our business.
We appreciate the smallest as well as the larger orders.

May Grocery Co.
Success to Golden & May.

me here to do your preparation winter. We have almost every in winter merchandise and thing thought here will give absolute satisfaction.

THE STAR STORE

Just Arrived
A number of

Pianos and Organs toe the place of a large nner we have recently so These pianos and ons are of the highest ty of instruments and old at prices which sise everyone. Also biful phonographs and
rds. It is a pleasure to onstrate.

Clear Tone Music Co.
Barbourville, Ky.

"Old Hickory Wagon" Back Again At BRICK STORE

er, Dynamite and Mine Supplies
The BRICK STORE
k Plant, Barbourville, Ky.

Send It To
The Laundry
Telephone 34

DEVOL

PAINT AND VARNISH PRODUCTS

Banish the Gloom Spots from your Home by Using

DEVOL HOLLAND ENAMEL. A snow white and delicately tinted enamel line.
DEVOL FLOOR PAINT. A quick drying and particularly tough, durable, glossy finish.
DEVOL PORCH AND DECK PAINT. A hard drying, weather resisting, waterproof, glossy finish that will withstand the tropic heat or the frigid cold.

Remove the "Blindfold" Habit Has Tied Over Our Eyes

DAILY association oftentimes makes us so familiar with the rooms we live in that we no longer really see them.

Examine your home today. Be as critically open to new impressions as a stranger. You will be amazed—shocked—to discover how much deterioration and ugliness has crept in unnoticed.

In a hundred places, indoors and out, here—there—everywhere, you will see spots that are worn, shabby, warped—spots where the beauty and value of your home are being destroyed.

Open your eyes to the immediate need of paint and varnish products in your home. And when you buy paint and varnish products, buy only the best.

Devolve products are time-tested and proven, backed by the 168 years' experience of the oldest paint manufacturing concern in the U. S. Founded 1754.

J. FRANK HAWN
Barbourville, Ky.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its August Term, 1922, in the case of Barbourville Planing Mill Co.,
and J. F. Hawn,
Plaintiff
against
Lida Smith and W. O. Smith,
Defendant

I will, as Master Commissioner, on the 27th day of November, 1922, same being the first day of the November Term of the Knox Circuit Court, sell at the Court House door in Barbourville, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described property to satisfy the judgment in said case, amounting to $462.32, with interest from December 1st, 1921, and $50.00 probable cost.

DESCRIPTION:

Lying in the County of Knox, State of Kentucky, City of Barbourville, on the South side of Allison Avenue, and abutting about 100 feet thereon and running back about 120 feet to Broadway Street, and bounded on the East by Allison Avenue and on the West by the land of Jim Smith.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, bearing interest at six per cent from date, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

WITNESS my hand, this the 8th day of November, 1922.

C. H. JONES, Master Commissioner, Knox Circuit Court.

Sale about 1 p.m. Purchaser must execute bond as soon as sale is over or the property will be immediately put up and re-sold.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its Nov. Term, 1922, in the case of

T. F. Faulkner, etc.,
Plaintiff
against

W. O. Smith and Lida Smith,
Defendant

I will, as Master Commissioner, on the 27th day of November, 1922, same being the first day of the November Term of the Knox Circuit Court, sell at the Court House door in Barbourville, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described property to satisfy the judgment in said case amounting to $100.50, with interest from March 2nd, 1922, and $50.00 probable cost.

DESCRIPTION:

A House and Lot situated on the west side of Allison Avenue, in Barbourville, Knox County, Kentucky, and which the defendants now reside in, facing about 100 feet of Allison Avenue and adjoining the property of J. S. Smith on the North and Broadway Street on the South and West.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, bearing interest at six per cent from date, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

WITNESS my hand, this the 8th day of November, 1922.

C. H. JONES, Master Commissioner, Knox Circuit Court.

Sale about 1 p.m. Purchaser must execute bond as soon as sale is over or the property will be immediately put up and re-sold.

FOR SALE

One black and white untrained coon hound, extra long ears, blue nose, six months old; out of Henson's Belle by Redbone Lou, $15.00. Also a full brother, brown and white, good ears, good nose, not so fast; $10.00. Both dogs vaccinated against distemper.

ETHAN VIALI,

7474 Lower River Road,
Fernbank, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DEWITT NEWS

The farmers are gathering corn.—J. T. Messer and family are moving to Flat Lick. Sorry to lose good friends.—Mrs. Bond Bingham went to Pineville Saturday to spend a few days with her sister-in-law.—Mrs. Bill Smith is visiting her old home once more. We are glad to see her.—Jim Shelton and family are in Flat Lick this week.—Sudie Baker, of Mud Lick, visited the home of Mary Carnes last week.—James Lester our barber, has just moved in from Four Mile. Boys, come to the DeWitt barber.—Everyone was glad to see Mrs. Lige Williamson, just from the hospital. She has gone back to town.—Martha Carnes was the guest of Delora Walker Wednesday.—C. A. Mills, of Walker, made a flying trip to Pineville Saturday.—Amanda Smith went to church at Turkey Creek Sunday.—Arthur Carnes spent Sunday at Mid-dio Fork.

MILLS NEWS

There was a large crowd at the baptizing Sunday.—Gobel Mills and mother visited Mrs. Ada Carnes on Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Mills visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnes Sunday after church.—Mrs. I. T. Mills and Mrs. Rosa Warfield visited in Pineville this week.—Sherman Taylor was the guest of Louis Mills.—J. L. Carnes and N. B. Mills made a business trip to Pineville last Saturday.—Mat Mills has been hauling coal for the past week.—Gobel Mills has been gathering N. B. Mills corn. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mills were the guests of Henry Carnes Sunday.—A revival will begin at the Mills Church the fourth Sunday and hold up till the first Sunday in December. Everybody try to attend.—Eliene Jackson, of Sealf, has been visiting her brothers at Harlan, Pineville and Four Mile.—Read the Advocate for the news. BLUE BIRD.

SHERIFF BLAIR HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Sheriff Blair and others took a trip to Gatton to trap an alleged band of bootleggers. Before arriving at Gatton, the Sheriff enlisted the services of four men to enable him to get in custody these bootleggers. Two of the men took the Sheriff's car up between the pike road and the railroad and contracted with the bootleggers to deliver them 13½ gallons of moonshine and agreed on the price and details and they were to bring the moonshine down and load it into the car. When the bootleggers went to get the liquor, Blair and Hensley went up in a culvert and laid down near the car to await the arrival of the men and moonshine. When they returned before delivering the moonshine, in order to ascertain if the road was clear, they spied the sheriff and broke into a run. Sheriff Blair called to them to stop and shot his gun into the air, but this failed to stop the fleeing men. They made a run for a tree and getting behind it, both men poured forth a volley of shots, one of which struck the hat of the sheriff, knocking it off. A fusillade of shots ensued, and after a lengthy silence, the sheriff crept up to the tree but found no one.

Deputy Sheriff Sizemore was detailed to go to Gatton on Tuesday morning and arrest the men responsible for the shooting. They arrived at Harlan about 3:00 P.M. having in custody Bob Stroag, from whom they relieved a 32-20 and a 45 pistol. George Stroag, a brother and partner of Bob, made his escape after several shots had been fired at him, one of which is believed to have taken effect.

The preliminary hearing for Bob Stroag will come up on Saturday, Nov. 4, and he was placed under $1,000.00 A warrant was immediately issued for George Stroag.

Sheriff Blair stated to the Enterprise reporter that if George Stroag remained within the boundary of the United States he will surely get him.—Harlan Enterprise.

GIRDLER NEWS

Everybody around here is gathering corn.—Mrs. J. K. Payne, who has been very low for some time, is improving nicely.—Wiley Perry, of Indiana, has been visiting his brother, George Perry.—Mr. and Mrs. Si Hammons and Mabel Bolton attended the box supper at Callebs Creek Friday night.—The box supper at Callebs Creek Friday night was well attended and the boxes and a cake sold for $47.65. The money will be used for the church.—Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hammons, of Frankfort, are visiting friends and relatives here this week.—E. K. Callebs, of Boreling, Ky., is visiting friends and relatives here this week.—Miss Nannie Burnett, of Rockhold, is visiting relatives.—Tip Warren has just bought a Ford car.—Fire broke out some way last week and burned up a lot of fence belonging to W. A. Hammons, Si Hammons and Matt Callebs. Fox and opossum hunters ought to be more careful with fire. DAISY.

MR. FARMER

You can sell your produce or surplus stock thru the Advocate Classified Ad column, at 6 words or 1 line for 5c.

Sale Bills

If you need some come in and see US

THE MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE
Barbourville, Kentucky.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Please call and settle taxes. Only a few more days till penalty comes on. It is necessary that you settle your tax so that I may be able to make settlement with State and the County.

J. M. CARNES, Sheriff.

WANTED

40 or 80 acres within 2 or 3 miles of Barbourville. Must have good residence and out-buildings, and be above high water mark. Am acquainted with country. Price must be right. Deal with owner only.

Address JAMES M. NEWTON,
50-3tp Delphos, Kansas.

Conclusion.

Another reason why it would be impracticable for a man to carry a fur muff is because he would soon ruin it by wiping his mouth on it.—Arkansas Thomas Co.

EXPLOSIVES!

DuPont, Atlas,
Hercules and King Brands
LARGEST STOCK IN KENTUCKY

We are in a position to handle your business regardless of the size of your orders. Shipping days Tuesday and Friday each week.

Send us your mail orders; we have the goods in stock

Delaware Powder Company

CHAS. C. BYRLEY, Manager.

Office & Main Bldg. rear Bell Natl. Bank Bldg.
PINEVILLE, KY.

NOTICE Of Removal

On or after October 10th. my dental offices will be located in

The Logan Hospital Bdg.

where I shall be glad to see patients,
old and new.

DR. J. E. FAULKNER

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its April Term, 1922, in the case of J. F. Hawn, Ratboun, Seent & Co. Plaintiff against Harrison Smith and wife, Annie Smith Defendant

I will, as Master Commissioner, on the 27th day of November, 1922, same being the first day of the November Term of the Knox Circuit Court, sell at the Court House door in Barbourville, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described property to satisfy the judgment in said case, amounting to $292.72, with interest from September 15th, 1922, and June 2nd, 1921, and $60.00 probable cost.

DESCRIPTION:

Beginning at a stake south west corner of lot 17; thence eastward parallel with the line of Lot No. 17 200 feet to an alley; thence with said alley 100 feet to a point on the line of Lot No. 18; thence a westward direction 200 feet to Allison Avenue; thence with said Avenue 100 feet to the beginning, and being Lots No. 17 and 18 in the John A. Black Addition to Barbourville, Ky., Knox County.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, bearing interest at six percent from date, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

WITNESS my hand, this the 8th day of November, 1922.

C. H. JONES, Master Commissioner, Knox Circuit Court. Sale about 1 p.m. Purchaser must execute bond as soon as sale is over or the property will be immediately put up and re-sold.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its August Term, 1922, in the case of

I. L. Hopkins, etc., Plaintiff against C. B. Asher, Defendant

I will, as Master Commissioner, on the 27th day of November, 1922, same being the first day of the November Term of the Knox Circuit Court, sell at the Court House door in Barbourville, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described property to satisfy the judgment in said case rendered at the August Term of said Court and $60.00 probable cost.

DESCRIPTION:

Situated and being in Knox County, Kentucky, on Roaring Fork of Stinking Creek, and being the same land conveyed by W. F. Westerfield to J. B. Smith, by Deed dated Aug. 6th, 1894, recorded in Commissioner's Deed Book "A" page 421, also in Deed Book "N" page 100, and Deed Book 8, at page 298, and Deed Book 11, at page 335, also all the rights, titles and interest in the two boundaries of land conveyed by W. F. Westerfield to J. B. Smith, and sold under order of Court in case of Golden Davis, etc., Vs. C. G. Carnes, in the Knox Circuit Court, also all the rights, titles and interests of whatever kind and nature in all the lands claimed and owned by the defendant, C. B. Asher on the Roaring Fork of Stinking Creek, by and adjacent to the lands described, in all the deeds and patents rendered and delivered to the defendant, Asher, from Cany Carnes containing 30 acres, and another tract containing 10 acres, which was conveyed by J. B. Smith and his wife to said Asher, and all the rights, titles and interests in said boundary of land containing on a branch at a sycamore and running thence up the hill with Nelson Carnes' line; thence with Martin Carnes' line to a poplar; thence S. E. with Martin Carnes' line to James Kennelham's line; thence with Martin Carnes' line to James Warren's line; thence with Warren's line to a yellow oak; thence with Warren's line to a white oak, corner known as the Tom Carnes Corner; thence 30 poles to the County Line; thence Southwest with the County Line to Jeff Carnes' line; thence with Carnes' line to the beginning.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, bearing interest at six percent from date, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

WITNESS my hand, this the 8th day of November, 1922.

C. H. JONES, Master Commissioner, Knox Circuit Court. Sale about 1 p.m. Purchaser must execute bond as soon as sale is over or the property will be immediately put up and re-sold.

Mountain Advocate, $1.50 a year.

Burns and bruises?
MENTHOLATUM
cools and heals.

Classified Ads

Dr. A. L. Parker now has his X-ray machine nicely installed in a prettily furnished room with every convenience for those who wish to have the roots of their teeth examined.

For Sale—Two lots on Allison Avenue and two on the south side of the river. See W. M. Tye. 37-1f

For Sale—Business House and Lot on Main Street, Corbin. Apply W. M. Tye, Barbourville, Ky. 47-1f

Dr. A. L. Parker, who is equipped to find the seat of trouble in the roots of teeth with his X-ray machine, will, if desired, extract teeth under gas.

For Sale—An Overland and Ford to sell for cash or real estate. See W. M. Tye. 37-1f

Land for Sale—18½ acres on Smoky Creek; coal, timber, excellent fruit land. Mayor T. D. Tinsley states there are 18½ acres in this plot. See Fred Burman, Advocate Office, Barbourville, Ky. 1f

The Ladies Aid of the Christian Church is agent for the well-known Wade's Extracts which any member will be glad to supply you with. 1f

Cow For Sale—Fresh Cow, 4 yrs. old. Bargain. Enquire at Advocate Office. 2-3t

House and Lot For Sale—Address Box 125, or enquire at Advocate Office. 2-1f

New goods all the time at England's. 2-1f

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its August Term, 1922, in the case of

Lina Carter, etc., Plaintiff against

Auntie Brannon, Jennie Carter, etc., Defendant

I will, as Master Commissioner, on the 27th day of November, 1922, same being the first day of the November Term of the Knox Circuit Court, sell at the Court House door in Barbourville, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described property to satisfy the judgment in said case, rendered at the August Term of the Knox Circuit Court, on Order 8, page 49, 1922, of about $375.00 and $50.00 probable cost.

DESCRIPTION:

The following described tract of land situated in Knox County, Ky., on Flat Creek: Beginning at a white oak corner of Geo. F. Carter and Jack Hubbs; thence with said Hubbs line to corner of a 50 acre survey, made in the name of John Brown, now owned by John Rose and Joe McNeal; thence with the line of said Rose and McNeal to a white oak corner on the Old Whitley Road; thence with said Road and R. A. Carter's line to Josephus Grant's line; thence with the said Grant's line to Wm. Hubbs line; thence with Wm. Hubbs' line to Jack Hubbs' line; thence with Jack Hubbs' line to the beginning. Containing 50 acres more or less and being a part of the tract of land conveyed to Geo. L. Carter by Rich Adams, by deed bearing date April 9th, 1884, and of record in Deed Book "S" at page 254, Knox County Court Clerk's Office.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond with approved security, bearing interest at six percent from date, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

WITNESS my hand, this the 8th day of November, 1922.

C. H. JONES, Master Commissioner, Knox Circuit Court. Sale about 1 p.m. Purchaser must execute bond as soon as sale is over or the property will be immediately put up and re-sold.

When you own your own home each cent invested in improvements increases the value of the property.

WE REPAIR SHOES

Ordinary Shoes Made Into Nice Oxfords. Saddles and Harness Repaired. Depot for City Papers. Business Appreciated.

GEO. HUTTON & SON

The Woman-Hater

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

Mrs. Davenant, white, determined, faced her neighbor, Henry Slade, over the privet fence.

"You scolded my little boy and made him cry!" she accused him.

"All right; you keep that little boy of yours off my flower beds," said Henry Slade.

"He just climbed over to get a ball."

"Climbed through and ruined my prize nasturtiums. Children ought to be looked after properly."

"You're just a mean, miserable old man," said Mrs. Davenant, turning away because she was not going to let him see her cry.

Henry Slade winced, but he turned away in time to prevent her seeing it. He was not really so old—in the forties, perhaps, but all the town knew he was a crusty old bachelor, whom even his charming neighbor had failed to soften.

"That's the woman all over," muttered Slade, as he went to repair the ruins of his flower-bed. "What that little widow wants is some fool of a man to marry her and keep her in order!"

Certainly things had been badly strained between them since Mrs. Davenant and her little son rented the house next to the Slade place. Henry Slade had lived so long in solitude, since his unhappy love affair of long ago; the sound of the girlish laughter and the boy's prattle were a perpetual reminder of what might have been.

And he had been harsh with the child. He knew that. A few days later, looking up from his flowers, he saw the child's figure in the gap in the hedge.

"Hello!" he said.

"Mumsey says I'm not to go near you."

"Why not?"

"Cos you're a cross old man."

The boy developed a fascination for seeing his neighbor working. The next day Slade looked up and saw him at the gap again. He beckoned mysteriously, and the child went forward timidly.

"D'you like candy?"

The boy looked at it. "Tain't poisoned, is it?" he said, as he took it.

"Of course not. Did she—your mother—tell you that?"

Henry Slade marched furiously up the garden and rang a peal upon the bell. Nevertheless, the pretty, cool-looking, girlish woman who confronted him at the door checked the fires of his anger.

"Oh, thank you so much for the candy you gave Danny."

"So you told him I'd give him poisoned candy, did you?"

"Nothing of the kind, Mr. Slade!"

"Humph! You let him think so."

"I didn't! You are a suspicious person. I think the trouble with you is, you've been shut away from the world so long that you've become a regular human-being hater."

Henry Slade crimsoned and turned away. Mrs. Davenant ran to his side.

"I—I didn't mean that," she said.

"Forgive me. And—can't we be friends, Mr. Slade?"

Henry Slade hesitated, then put his broad palm out and took Mrs. Davenant's dainty little one. And after that they said good-morning over the hedge, and Danny spoiled the flower-beds at his sweet will.

There came a day when Slade missed Danny. Next day he felt as if something had gone out of his life when the house remained silent. They had not gone away, but—why, there was the doctor's car!

He hurried to the door after the doctor had gone. Mrs. Davenant was weeping. "It's spotted fever," she said.

"He's in such pain, and—asking for you all the time. I was going to ask you—won't you go up to him? It's not infectious for grown-ups."

Henry Slade mounted the stairs. There on the bed lay Danny, flushed and moaning.

"I want the cross old man who gave me candy," he kept crying.

"Hush, darling, here he is!" said his mother.

All that day Henry Slade sat by the bedside, holding the little hand. The doctor found him there and raised his eyebrows ironically. Next day it was touch and go. On the third day Danny was snuggling up at Slade, unconscious.

The fever left no paralysis, and during convalescence Henry Slade discovered that he had an inexhaustible reservoir of stories about lions, pirates, and fairies. The two were inseparable.

Then came the day when Slade said: "Well, I guess I won't be needed any more, now he's up and about. I suppose he'll be breaking down my privet hedge again tomorrow."

He held Mrs. Davenant's hands, and the look in her eyes suddenly awakened him to realities.

"Come whenever you like," she said softly.

"It will be to see—you, then," said Henry Slade.

On His Way.

"Mose, what would you do if you received a letter from the Ku Klux Klan?" a local negro was asked.

"Well, sah, I'd read it on a train," replied Mose.

Soulful Sympathy.

"Oh," she wailed, "why did Fate deprive me of my first dear, kind, considerate husband?"

"There, there," he said consolingly, "try to bear it bravely. I'm just as sorry as you are."

The Prize-Winning Dress

By JOHN PALMER

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Here you are, Miss Firth. Take it up to Mrs. Embridge's tonight; she wants it for the ball tomorrow, and I've promised her."

Emmy Firth folded the delicate fabric away in its cardboard box, wrapped the tissue paper around it, and left the shop. Her heart was burning. Two hundred dollars for a ball dress, and she was going to the Sons of St. Patrick's dance that night in the cheap, second-hand thing she had scriaped and saved to purchase. And Pat would be there.

What would Pat think of her? She knew the dress looked ridiculous on her, and—Pat had almost told her he loved her.

On the way uptown an awful temptation assailed her. Mrs. Embridge did not want her dress until the next night. She could wear it herself—it fitted her to perfection—and deliver it early the following morning.

And she did so want to look well at the dance, and to win Patrick's admiration!

Almost unconsciously her feet took her out of the elevated at her own station, instead of staying on and waiting till she reached Mrs. Embridge's home. In another minute she was flying down the stairs and on her way to her boarding house.

"I'll do it! It doesn't do any harm. And I've a right to look decent for once," she thought.

The Sons of St. Patrick's dance was under the patronage of a number of West side social leaders who were interested in civic reform. The Sons were a new organization with an "uplift" tendency.

Emmy put on the dress and surveyed herself in the cracked mirror of her hall bedroom. She hardly knew the radiant girl who looked back at her. Originally she had wavered between wearing the dress and just putting it on, but there was no irresolution now.

Justly slipping her old coat over it, she went out and took the car downtown.

The dance hall was crowded. Upon a sort of dais at the end, near the musicians, the society leaders were congregated. Emmy saw Pat in a moment. He stared at her in amazed admiration.

"Emmy!" he muttered, drawing her arm through his. "Say, we'll take the prize for the best fox-trotters for sure."

"Are there prizes, Pat?" gulped Emmy.

"Sure. Fifty berries for you and me. Come in handy, won't it, little girl?"

Emmy could hardly believe Pat had said that. He explained a few minutes later.

"I've got my eye on the finest little three-room apartment downtown, Emmy," he said. "So, as soon as you'll say the word—what's it to be?"

"Oh, yes, I suppose, Pat," Emmy quavered.

"And we'd best win that fifty," said Pat. "That'll come in handy for a nice little nest egg. Why, Emmy, there ain't a girl in the room's a patch on you for looks. Come on!"

They entered the dance hall, watched by the judges. It was as Pat had said; nobody looked like Emmy, and certainly no one danced like Pat. At the interval the prize winners' names were read out. Pat had entered Emmy, and they won—not the first, but the second prize, of twenty-five.

When they went up to the dais to receive it, Emmy nearly fainted with horror. There, delivering the prizes, as large as life, stood Mrs. Embridge. And Mrs. Embridge was staring, first at the girl's face and then at her gown, and then at her face again. Emmy nearly sank through the floor.

"What's the matter, darling?" asked Pat, as he saw her name. "Too hot for you in there?"

"I—I guess that must be it, Pat. I feel out of sorts like," said Emmy.

That night the awful vision of arrest passed before her eyes. The delicate, pearl-gray dress was quite unmistakable. She cried into her pillow bitterly. She would lose Pat now, go to jail, unless—unless she could induce Mrs. Embridge to forgive her.

At half-past eight she rang the bell and timidly asked if she could see Mrs. Embridge. A moment later that lady swept in to the hall.

"Please, madam, it's your dress from Madame Stahl's," faltered Emmy.

"Why, you're the girl that won the prize last night!" exclaimed the other.

"Madam, I—I want to beg—"

"You tell Madame Stahl I've decided to take the other dress, and I'll be obliged if she'll send it up by twelve o'clock," said Mrs. Embridge. "She told me this was an exclusive model, and I saw one like it yesterday."

Emmy raised her hanging head, and suddenly seemed to see a gleam of humor in Mrs. Embridge's eyes. Was there? Or was it imagination?

"Oh, yes, I'll tell her madam," she faltered, and hurried out of the house with her parcel.

Consistent Publicity.

"Why do you retain this press agent?"

"He's such an uncompromising fellow," said the star.

"Eh?"

"No matter how often grasping managers reduce my salary, he resolutely declines to lop off any ciphers from the weekly stipend he regards as my just due."

The Grant Drug Store

Gives strict attention to all prescriptions, using only the best drugs.

Pretty Articles for Gifts,

Kodaks and Films,

Film Development

Sodas and Candies,

Delicious Ice Cream.

Headquarters for School Supplies

Insurance

Means Assurance

Against Loss

It is a mighty good feeling to have that should fire wipe out your property. You will not be cleaned out too. Every man knows his own business of course, but he cannot save his business when afire.

Insurance is the Answer

H. C. MILLER Agent

The Henry Clay Fire Insurance Co.

Broyles & Co.

Have Changed Quarters

THEIR MACHINE & WELDING PLANT formerly at the Buchanan Motors Co. Garage, has moved to their new headquarters adjoining The Knox Bottling Plant at the junction of Depot Street and Allison Avenue.

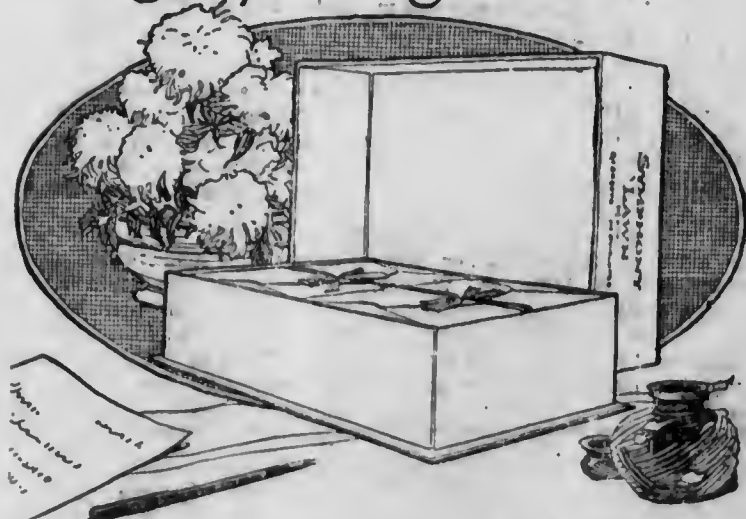

Mr. Broyles, who is a skilled workman, announces that he is prepared to execute any job in iron or steel that needs repair, or, in many cases, that can be made at home.

BROYLES & CO.

Phone, Shop 245
Residence 238

Barbourville, Ky.

Symphony Lawn

Look for the Water Mark

EVER pick up a sheet of writing paper so invitingly beautiful to the eye and the touch, that it seemed to say to your fingers, "You must write on me!"

Symphony Lawn is just such a paper. It comes in three exquisite finishes and several smart tints. Sheets and envelopes in the newest shapes. Also correspondence cards to match. May we show you Symphony Lawn?

Herndon Drug Company

Incorporated

The Rexall Store

Barbourville,

Kentucky

One Thing Well Done
T. H. BYRD
 Registered Optometrist and Optician
 S. E. Corner of Public Square
 Phone 249. Barboursville, Ky.
SPECIALIZING
 Practice Limited to Correction of Defects of Eyesight by the Fitting of Proper Glasses

Personal Mention

TO SEE THE LORD:—Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord. —Hebrews 12:14.

Bob Riley is employed with the Harlan Enterprise.

Catherins Lay is confined to her home with scarlet fever.

Little Gail Miles is a victim of scarlet fever.

W. F. Wilson, of Artemus, was in town Monday on business.

B. W. Jennings was here Saturday from Warren.

Union College plays Tusculum College at Greenville, Tenn., Sat.

Col. John H. Wilson is spending a few days in Barboursville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bunnell spent Saturday in Corbin.

Mr. Selance, of Cincinnati, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scent the first of the week.

Jake Kinder will grind corn Wednesday and Saturday at his mill instead of Monday and Saturday.

B. F. Terry and Jake Hendrickson are hatching over the Davis Barber Shop.

The Callahan singers came over to Hi-Land Park Sunday night and did some fine singing.

Mrs. Tom Payne, who has been visiting Mrs. Ella Black, returned to Morristown Tuesday.

Mrs. Hazel Brooks, of Corbin, visited Mrs. Fred Reiser this week and took in the school play.

See the program of the Union College Reclinal for tonight. It is free and will be very enjoyable.

Miss Margaret Conniff, of Irvington, Ky., is spending the week end with Miss Emma Johnson at B. B. I.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Benjamin and Mrs. Minnie Riddle drove to Cumberland Gap Sunday.

Miss Grace Long, of Big Stone Gap, Va. spent Sunday with Miss Pearl Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. John Logan and Josh Logan, of King, were here on Monday to transact business.

Miss Jess Perkins, of the graded schools, spent the week end with her people in Whitley county.

Judge and Mrs. F. D. Sampson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe McDonald spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fount Rowland at Fount.

"Well! Strong!"

Mrs. Anna Clover, of R. F. D. 5, Winfield, Kans., says: "I began to suffer some months ago with womanly troubles, and I was afraid I was going to get in bed. Each month I suffered with my head, back and sides—a weak, aching, nervous feeling. I began to try medicines as I knew I was getting worse. I did not seem to find the right remedy until someone told me of

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

I used two bottles before I could see any great change, but after that it was remarkable how much better I got. I am now well and strong. I can recommend Cardui, for it certainly benefited me." If you have been experimenting on yourself with all kinds of different remedies, better get back to good, old, reliable Cardui, the medicine for women, about which you have always heard, which has helped many thousands of others, and which should help you, too. Ask your neighbor about it; she has probably used it.

For sale everywhere.

"Lots for Your Money Brands"

Should Not Tempt You—Use

CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

That's What Millions of Housewives Do

BEST BY TEST

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

—They know that Good Baking Powder can't be sold for less—that "more for the money" means bake-day failures, waste of time and money—that Calumet means economy.

The sales of Calumet are over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Parker drove thru to Lexington Wednesday to attend the banquet given by the Oleika shrine to this illustrious Potentate of the United States. They returned Thursday.

S. A. Lovelless returned Wednesday from a couple of weeks stay in Laurel County, bringing back with him a 1,050 majority for J. M. Robison. The vote stood, Robison 2091, Sipple 1079, Seavy 63.

In the County Court Saturday, Vernon Black received a fine of $150 and costs and 30 days in jail on two liquor charges. He was also put under $2,000 peace bonds. Jim Gray, of Road Fork, was fined $10 for breach of the peace.

Miss Mary McDermott is spending the week end at home as the Dishman-McDermott families will have a house warming before Judge and Mrs. S. B. Dishman leave for Florida. Ben Dishman, of Cincinnati is also here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bunch, little son Richard, Jim Bunch and Miss Maud Swanson drove to Middlesboro last Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sexton, of Capito. They reported a nice drive and a pleasant visit with Mr. Bunch's parents.

Hon. Sol T. Steele, of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived here last week to work and vote for Congressman Robison. He made a number of speeches over the county. He is a legal adviser in the work of the Veterans Bureau.

Dr. E. T. Franklin is making a great record in assisting with the fund raising campaign for Dickinson College, Carlisle, Penn. Even after the College had been solicited he succeeded in writing up $133,000 more. He is now working among the towns-people of Carlisle.

In the United States of America there were 264,000 divorces last year and the number this year will be greater probably. America leads the world in turning out divorcees. Hear Rev. John Owen Gross Sunday night discuss the attitude that Jesus takes toward this evil.

Charlie Cole is an enthusiastic radio fan and likes to keep up to the outside world. On Nov. 1st, after he had returned from the picture show, he cut in on his receiver and heard the Kiwanis Club of St. Louis, Mo., put on a minstrel show, the St. Louis Post doing broadcasting. On Saturday night he heard Chas. Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, deliver a fine speech at Cleveland, Ohio, from station Wjox.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stewart, son Braxton, Miss Emma Johnson, Prof. Ernest Miller, the two latter of B. B. I. drove through to Pineville and back Tuesday night.

Mrs. L. L. Richardson spent last week visiting Miss Catherine Richardson and Miss Carolyn Scent at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, and Miss Idamae Smith at Winchester.

Mrs. J. I. Mitchell and children returned from a visit of some months with Mrs. Mitchell's parents in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have moved to one of the brick homes on Allison Ave. near the Brick Plant.

While on a visit to Mack Hammonds and other relatives through the county, the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hammonds of Frankfort, was destroyed by fire, according to a telephone message Wednesday.

Collie Franklin, wife and baby, of Greenfield, Ind., are here this week guests of Prof. and Mrs. D. M. Humfleet. Collie is farming and trading cattle and enjoying life. The baby, now fourteen months old, weighs twenty-eight pounds and is thriving splendidly.

America's Ex-Service Men Best Treated of Any in World

Republican Administration Spends More for World War Veterans Than for Any Item Except the Public Debt.

C. R. REPRESENTATIVE CARL W. RIDDICK (MONTANA), MEMBER HOUSE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE

In November, 1918, the people elected a Republican Congress. The first session of this newly elected Republican Congress began May 19, 1919. With it began practically all Federal aid for relief and assistance of those who served in the World War. An elaborate program was formulated providing for hospital and medical aid for all disabled and diseased ex-service men. The program included those suffering from mental diseases as a result of their war experience; also vocational training and rehabilitation; also financial allotments for those engaged in such training; also compensation for men totally or partially disabled, and for their dependents; and for the dependents of those who died as a result of injury or disease contracted while in the service of their country.

There was expended to July 1, 1922, for the purposes of carrying out this program the sum of $1,435,854,385. In addition an appropriation of $423,038,842, has just been made by the Congress for the Veterans' Bureau for the coming fiscal year. This is a greater appropriation than made for any other purpose except in payment of the public debt.

Following the war the administration of relief for ex-service men was divided among several bureaus and this necessitated tremendous overhead expense, eating up a disproportionate amount of money appropriated for aid of World War veterans, and it occasioned endless delay in handling ex-service men's cases and put them to unfair expense. To remedy these evils the Republican Congress passed a measure, combining all agencies dealing with ex-service men under the Veterans' Bureau.

Following the war, hundreds of thousands of veterans permitted their insurance to lapse, largely because of the slipshod manner in which their claims were handled under the Democratic administration. At the request of representatives of the ex-service men the Republican Congress made it possible for all ex-service men whose policies had lapsed to be reinstated at any time prior to March 4, 1926.

The hospitalization and medical treatment of ex-service men was found to be unsatisfactory and Congress transferred 99 hospitals to use of the Veterans' Bureau. The number of beds in these hospitals taken over by the Veterans' Bureau is in excess of 23,000.

There were many ex-service men living in remote sections of the country who were not aware of the benefits they could receive and should be receiving from the government under the Veterans' Bureau. In order that no worthy ex-service man entitled to benefits of any kind might be neglected, the Veterans' Bureau conducted a drive in which over 175,000 ex-service men were interviewed and 110,000 new claims were filed and handled as a result.

As a result of this tremendous program of Federal aid to ex-service men, all of which has been put into effect by the Republican Party and the money for which has been appropriated by a Republican Congress, the following summarization may be given:

(1) Over 240,000 ex-service men have received hospital treatment; 30,000 ex-service men are now receiving treatment in hospitals; over 1,000 ex-service men have been called for examination in order to ascertain if they should receive hospital or medical treatment.

(2) Over 150,000 ex-service men have entered vocational training and 150,000 more have been declared eligible for vocational training.

(3) Compensation for disabled ex-service men or their dependents is being paid out at a rate in excess of $1,000,000 in cash every day, including Sundays.

(4) Over 50,000 medical examinations are being made free every month in order to ascertain the physical and mental treatments needed by afflicted ex-service men.

(5) Over 1,000 new claims are being handled every day by the Veterans' Bureau and all work in that bureau is practically current and being conducted at a minimum loss of time and a minimum expense both to the government and to the ex-service man concerned.

(6) An insurance business of 600,000 ex-service men is conducted by the government, at any cost of administration to ex-service men, at premium rates far below those private companies charge for like policies.

Republican Administration Promotes World Peace Plans

Maintains Vigorous American Policy, Avoids Foreign Entanglements and Achieves Great Practical Results for World Peace.

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE HORACE M. TOWNER (IOWA), CHAIRMAN HOUSE COMMITTEE ON INSULAR AFFAIRS

The people of the United States earnestly desire peace. The last administration, with an insistence that would not consider any method of securing the peaceful settlement of international disputes except the League of Nations, went out of power largely because of that fact. The people saw in that scheme an assurance of further wars rather than a reasonable plan for the discouragement and prevention of wars.

The present administration with rare wisdom undertook to secure concrete and definite international agreements which would result in diminishing the probability of future wars by limiting the armament of those nations whose competitive strife could only result in future wars. Accordingly, the President called a Conference to meet at Washington to consider the limitation of armament and to make such settlements and agreements especially with regard to the Pacific and adjoining territory as would determine existing disputes and remove causes of future discord.

Judged by practical results the Washington Conference was the greatest actual achievement in the cause of peace ever accomplished. It secured a treaty agreement by the five great maritime powers for a definite limitation of naval armament. It secured a definite agreement regarding the use of submarines and noxious gases in warfare. It secured by the four-part treaty an agreement fixing the status, defining the rights, and limiting the building and enlarging of fortifications and naval bases on the Pacific. It secured a confirmation by nine of the great nations immediately concerned of the "Open Door" policy, and agreements that will prevent the future exploitation of China. It secured the withdrawal of Japan from Shantung and Siberia, and an agreement with Japan defining and confirming American rights in the island of Yap.

Through these agreements, which are being actually carried into effect by the contracting nations, we have greatly reduced the war burden of the nations parties to the Conference. We have made war more difficult and less justifiable for all nations, and have given a new assurance to those who desire and hope for the future peace of the world.

The present administration has given not only actual and practical expression of its desire for peace, it has gone to the extreme limit in the reduction of its military establishment.

We are "acraping" our Navy down to the treaty standard, by which the United States must limit its tonnage to 525,000; Great Britain 525,000; Japan 315,000; France 175,000; and Italy, 175,000.

We have reduced our annual war expenditures of over $10,000,000,000 to about $600,000,000 and are making further reductions every year.

The last administration refused to end the war with Germany for over two years after the Armistice was signed, except upon acceptance of the Versailles treaty with the League Covenant. The present administration made peace with Germany without delay and without surrender of any right the United States had acquired by its participation in the war.

The United States will not be an isolated nation under Republican administrations. But it will be the continued policy of the Republican party to keep the United States to its traditional policy so as to prevent entanglement in the masses of conflicting interests, territorial quarrels, religious hatreds, and race jealousies, which have afflicted Europe for more than a thousand years. The peace-loving people of America will do well to maintain that policy, and to support that party which not only desires peace but takes practical measures to obtain it; which is not afraid to propose and effect reductions of our own Army, Navy and armament in order to induce other nations to do likewise; and which will not be swayed from its policy and purpose by any chimerical scheme, or by any ambitious and just for power.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Mierman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Note: Write for valuable free illustrated book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important authoritative information which every expectant mother should have, and all about "Mother's Friend" by Bradford Regulster Company, P. O. Box 11, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists everywhere.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking all those who contributed assistance or loving kindness on the occasion of the death of our beloved wife mother and grandmother, Yours gratefully, Ike Golden and family.

FORMER LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD IN TEXAS

Ed. Bailey, of Canyon, Texas and formerly of Knox County who recently joined the clerical force of the Santa Fe R. R. at Amarillo as hill clerk, has been promoted to one of the higher departments after four months of work and at a salary increase of 125 per cent.

Mr. Bailey underwent an examination with 76 other men and topped the list for knowledge of the subjects given. His friends here will be delighted over his promotion.

Still Reveal Much, Though Probably Less Than Was the Case Some Few Years Ago.

Once it was possible to tell a "lady" by her hands—that is if you regarded a lady as "a female of the favored social class." She had well-kept hands because she did nothing to roughen them or enlarge their knuckles or cause premature wrinkles. Even if fortune had gone against her she somehow avoided the work that would mar the symmetry of those hands. She did without sugar for her tea and did needlework for money in order to avoid the work that she regarded as menial. And because a woman of this class knew that it was at her hands that others looked for an index to her social position it was her hands that she saved, wearing gloves by day and by night to keep them white and to protect them and repair them from the ravages of wind, sun and housework.

The situation is rather different now. The young woman of immigrant parents who sells tinware in the department store has hands that are smooth, but the wife of the college president has hands that clearly show the effects of work that we would once have regarded as menial.

Perhaps still to the keen observer hands have something to tell of their owner's rank or pedigree. There are some hands that no matter how diligently manicured always look a little grimy at the corners, and others, lacking entirely the luster of the manicure buffer, that are always scrupulously clean.

PRIZED AMBER AS ORNAMENT

Romans Secured It From "Barbarous" Germans, Who Had Small Idea of Its Real Value.

Amber, which is fossilized resin, was in great demand among the Romans for ornaments. Tacitus, in his "Germania," tells that it was gathered by the barbarian Germans. "They explore the sea for amber, in their language called 'glasse,' and are the only people who gather that curious substance," he says. "It is generally found among the shallows; sometimes on the shore. Concerning the nature of the cause of this concreted the barbarians, with their usual want of curiosity, make no inquiry. Amongst other superfluities discharged by the sea this substance lay long neglected, till Roman luxury gave it a name and brought it into request. The savages it is of no use. They gather it into rude beads and offer it for sale without any form or polish, wondering at the price they receive for it."

Tacitus guessed correctly the origin of amber, saying: "There is reason to think that amber is a distillation of certain trees, since in the transparent medium we see a variety of insects and even animals of the wing, which, being caught in the viscous fluid, are afterwards, when it grows hard, incorporated with it."

Poem Had Origin in Actual Life.

The famous poem about the boy who stood on the burning deck had its origin in an actual happening which constitutes a page in history.

It was during Napoleon's expedition to Egypt that England sent Lord Nelson to capture him and annihilate his fleet. At the battle of Abukir the French navy was crushed and Napoleon was forced to flee, all but four of his ships being sunk, burned or captured.

The French admiral had been killed. And on the deck of the flagship stood her captain, Louis Casabianca, who then had command of the fleet. He was wounded and the ship was burning, but he refused to leave his post. And in spite of commands and entreaties, his son, a boy of ten, stayed with him and died with him when the ship went down, supplying the theme for that famous epic of child heroism, "The boy stood on the burning deck."

Compass Plant Western Product.

On the prairies and plains of Utah, Texas and southern Minnesota there grows a wonderful plant which has proved useful to travelers wandering over these vast tracts of country. It is called the compass plant, or pilot plant, because of a peculiarity in the growth of the leaves, which grow alternately along the stalk, and point precisely north and south.

The Indians followed the direction given them by these pointing leaves, and told the white men about it. This plant belongs to the family of the Compositae, and looks very much like the sunflower. It has a strong, resinous odor, somewhat like turpentine, and sometimes goes by the name of "turpentine plant."

One of Noah's Pets.

It was swammy around Deaver 2,000,000 years ago, according to Prof. J. D. Higgins, director of the Colorado Museum of Natural History. The traveler who wants to hobnob with the monsters of long ago can do so in the city park collection, in Denver, where the skeleton of an animal closely related to the present-day rhinoceros is on exhibition, one-half of it covered with an imitation hide.

Natural Qualification.

"Oliver Twist was always asking for more," remarked Senator Sorghum.

"Yet he became a worthy citizen," observed the admirer of Dickens.

"Yes. Probably he grew up eventually to be a tax collector."

"HORSE-POWER" UNIT WRONG

Mistake That Can Be Definitely Traced to James Watt Was Never Officially Corrected.

"H. P.," as you know, stands for "horse power," and if, therefore, your motorcycle is a four and one-half h. p. one, you know that what is meant is that the engine has a power which is equivalent to that of four and a half horses.

Not so! You would be incorrect to the extent of no less than 40,000 pounds, remarks a London Answers writer.

The h. p. unit of power is a fraud, and the late James Watt of engine fame is responsible. He was a very careful engineer, in theory and practice, and he discovered, by many experiments, that the raising of 22,000 pounds one foot per minute was a good average horse-power.

But "horse-power" today is reckoned at 33,000 lbs. per foot per minute—11,000 pounds in excess! That is due to the fact that Watt, in his anxiety to encourage business, offered to sell engines which would develop 33,000 pounds per foot as a horse-power—a third more than the actual.

It would seem that he meant ultimately to be honest, but he died before that happened, and so bequeathed to the world, which has accepted it, a false unit measurement of horse-power.

Engineers, of course, know of the error, and make due allowance for it; but the average individual does not. Your 10 h. p. car is, therefore, in fact, but a 6.23 one, and its power is equal to raising 222,000 pounds a foot in a minute, and not 333,000.

IMMENSE ROOKERY IN LAKE

Birds Find Sanctuary on Island on Which Hunters Are Forbidden to Set Foot.

Set in the middle of Great Salt Lake is that island, 12 acres in area, one of the most densely populated rookeries in the world. Its official name is due to its shape, but it is more familiarly known to westerners as Bird Island.

Seagulls and pelicans live there. The island is literally covered with them, and since hunters are not permitted to disturb the fowls, visitors experience no difficulty in walking about among them and observing their habits. The birds have established their roosts among the rocky formations of the island, which is surrounded by salt water more dense than that of the ocean. The highest point is about 100 feet above the surface of the lake.

The strangest sight on the island is the flock of young pelicans. They walk about like a drove of sheep. One acts as leader and the rest follow. Large bodied, clumsy birds they are, scarcely able to waddle out of the way when one approaches.

As evening approaches one may look out over the lake, far to the northeast, and see a cloud of tiny specks. It is the adult pelicans returning home from the mouth of the Jordan river, or from the Great Bear river, 50 to 70 miles away. They are laden with fish for their young ones. The pouches under their beaks are filled with fresh-water fish.

Never Saw Their Faces.

The young woman was looking at a child's book, "The Sunbonnet Babies." Those Sunbonnet babies were my delight and my despair when I was little," she said, "because I never could see their faces. If you'll look carefully at every picture you'll notice the faces of those babies are never revealed. Other characters in the illustration show their faces, but never the sunbonnet babies.

"The only idea you can get of what sort of little girls they were is by their posture. And I used to peer and peer at those sunbonnets. I used to turn over the pages and look through from the back side; I used even to tear the pages a bit to see if I could not get inside of those sunbonnets. But I never could.

"Some day I'm going to write to that sunbonnet artist and ask if he won't send me, in confidence, one picture of those babies with their bonnets off."—Springfield Union.

Eagles Change Color.

The young eagle is clothed in three kinds of garments before it reaches maturity. During the first year it is black, the second year slate-colored, the third year brown and white. It might be said that the bald-headed eagle is not bald. It is so called from the white ruff of feathers about its head. The three different appearances of the young eagle one time provoked a strange misunderstanding among bird observers. It was thought that they were three different species—the black, the George Washington and the bald. The eagle is one of the Falconidae, which includes hawks and all similar birds of prey.

Great Authors Write Badly.

All great authors write badly. That is well known. At least the pedants say so. Great writers are impetuous. The vigor of their vocabulary, the intensity of their style, the daring of their phrases disconcert the pedants. To the pundits good writing apparently means writing according to rules. But born writers make their own rules, or rather make none. They change their manner at every moment as inspiration dictates; sometimes they are harmonious, sometimes rugged, sometimes indolent and sometimes spirited. So, according to the common notion, they cannot write well.—Anatole France.

A Spoonful of Purity

One uses so little baking powder in comparison with the other materials used in baking that it always pays to use the best.

For making the finest and most wholesome food there is no substitute for ROYAL Baking Powder. It is made from Cream of Tartar derived from grapes and is absolutely pure.

Contains No Alum
Leaves No Bitter Taste

THE CHOICE OF FRIENDS AND READING

Your family is worth the best you can give it. You desire for their enjoyment the best house, the best food, the best clothes you can afford. And you are careful that they cultivate the right kind of friends. But are you just as careful about choosing the right kind of reading? You should be, for reading has a marked influence upon character, especially the reading that comes under the eyes of the young and impressionable. If you choose The Youth's Companion you are giving your family an acquaintance with the best there is in periodical literature. If you see The Companion in a house you may be sure that it is a safe family to tie up to—a family worth knowing. Try it for a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1923.
2. All the remaining issues of 1922.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1923. All for $2.50.
4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
Commonwealth Ave. & St. Paul St., Boston, Mass.

METHODIST LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church met with Mrs. J. O. Gross on Pine Street, Nov. 3rd. There were 49 members present.

After business session the hostesses assisted by Mrs. H. M. Oldfield and Mrs. J. E. Faulkner served a delicious salad course.

The aid meets with Mrs. W. S. Edwards on Main St. Nov. 17th. All members are urged to be present.

KILLING IN CORBIN

Cy Davis, 26 years of age, formerly an L. & N. shopman, was shot to death on Hallawell night by George Marcum, a deputy, who claims he killed Davis whom he was trying to arrest and who, he states, opened fire on him. A peculiar feature of the case is that Marcum's gun held only two empty cartridges and Davis' body showed four wounds. It is believed he had been shot and robbed by another party and when Marcum appeared on the scene, he believed he was firing at his assailant. Marcum, ignorant of the tragedy, returned the fire, killing Davis.

NOTICE

In accordance with a Notice in the Mountain Advocate under date of November 10th, 1922, stating that at or about 11:00 o'clock A.M. on November 14th, 1922, the Street Committee of the City Council of Barbourville, Kentucky, will inspect the construction of Cordell Avenue between River Bridge and Poplar Street for the purpose of determining whether or not same should be accepted by the City of Barbourville. All property owners are notified to present any protest, if any, they have against such acceptance in writing, so that same may be considered and passed on at the regular meeting of the City Council of the said City to be held at the Council Chamber at 7:00 P. M. on the said date of November 18th, 1922.

T. D. TINSLEY, Mayor.

FOR SALE

18½ acres of land on Smoky Creek, site for house, timber and coal. Fine fruit land. Next to Beard property. Acreage correct according to Mayor T. D. Tinsley. See Fred Burman, Advocate, for price. tf

KEEP YOUNG

People with bad backs and weak kidneys are apt to feel old at sixty. Many old folks say Doan's Kidney Pills help them keep young. Here's a Barbourville case:

J. H. Smith, retired shoemaker, N. Main St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I ever saw. I had rheumatic pains in my arms and I couldn't move them. My joints were stiff and ached awfully. My shoulders, back and limbs pained and I could hardly get about. The kidney secretions were scanty in passage, and highly colored. I was in a bad condition when I commenced to use Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon helped me. The aches and pains left and I felt better than I had for years. I am always glad to recommend Doan's." (Statement given November 6, 1916.)

On March 12, 1921, Mr. Smith said: "I still take a few Doan's Kidney Pills when I think my kidneys need attention and they never fail me. Doan's are a fine kidney medicine and I am always glad to speak a good word for them."

60c at all dealers. Foster-McMunn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

HIGH SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

Under the able direction of Mrs. George Tinsley a group of girls (and one boy) put on a very creditable program at the High School Auditorium last Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher Association.

"Sophronia Wins" is a two act little play that calls attention to the suffering of the girl who is left out. Pauline Lay did the part of the neglected girl in a fine manner, her last fiery speech seeming to come directly from her heart.

The others taking part were Margaret Mitchell, Zorah Surgenor, Marjorie Cole and Eugenia Richardson, and they all did good work.

"Goin' Somewhere" was cleverly done by Catherine Reiser and Harry Marshall. Catherine made a dear little, fussy old lady and Harry continued to smile in spite of trying circumstances. They both fell audibly asleep.

Mrs. Buck at the piano, red lights and a shimmering caudle lent a very pleasing effect to the readings of the little ladies in their night clothes, Lucy Garrard and Mary Richardson.

"The Burglar" was presented by the same five girls that put on the first play and it was equally well done. After a great deal of nervous excitement the house cat was discovered to be the cause of their alarm.

A neat little 'sum was realized, but most of all, those who attended spent a very delightful evening.

Do it again!

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Following is the Schedule of Dispatch of Mail from the Barbourville Post Office:

For Train 22—9:15 A.M. Daily.
For Train 12—1:35 P.M. Daily except Sunday.

For Train 23—4:00 P. M. Daily except Sunday.

For Train 24—8:00 P.M. Daily.
Star Route Service:
To Bimble, Ky.—7:30 A.M. Daily except Sunday.

To Indiana Creek, Perman and Lindsay—12:15 P.M. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
To Bryants Store, King and Rain 12:30 P.M. Daily except Sunday.

To Swaa Lake—10:30 A.M. on Tuesday and Saturday.
Effective Nov. 6, 1922.

W. F. AMIS, P. M.

Don't hunt off your own land with out a license.

Don't shoot without this year's license.

Are You Satisfied

With the Values You Receive

For the Dollars You Spend?

If not, pay us a visit and see for yourself the values we have to offer and how we can save you money.

Thrifty Shoppers

Hundreds of Thrifty Shoppers are becoming accustomed to walking a half block to save the difference.

For Men

Our Line of SUITS and OVERCOATS for Men, Young Men and Boys is unequalled anywhere at the price.

For Women

LADIES' SUITS, COATS AND DRESSES are priced so they are bound to sell when inspected.

Shoes

We also invite you to inspect OUR FULL LINE of SHOES for the WHOLE FAMILY.

WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

The People's Store

MEALER & SIMON, Proprietors

Barbourville,

Kentucky

COMFORTS, SPREADS AND BLANKETS

BROYLES & CO.

have added to their machine shop a first class

Auto Mechanic

and are ready to give the public the best of service on their cars along with other lines of repair work. We expect to give the public a square deal and a full dollars worth of work for every dollar received. Our machine shop equipment makes it possible for us to take care of the most difficult job along the auto line.

Give us a trial on your next job.

CHESTER HAMMOND,

Auto Mechanic

Marine Glue.

Marine glue is prepared by dissolving one part of India rubber in crude benzene and mixing with two parts of shellac, by the aid of heat. The waterproof character of this cement in connection with its elastic flexibility makes it a useful substance in many applications to house construction and to furniture. This glue is applied with ease when warm, and cools with promptness. It was originally intended to be used chiefly on board ship and is well known in Europe.

Ours Proper Pride.

Pride is one of the seven deadly sins; but it cannot be the pride of a mother in her children, for this is a compound of the cardinal virtues—faith and hope.—Charles Dickens.

Federal Prisons.

Federal civil prisons are located at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Atlanta, and McNeil Island, Wash.

Grecian Girl Provides the Home. In some parts of Greece no girl can ever hope to find a husband until she has a home of her own. Hence, providing his daughters with houses is an onerous duty which falls to the lot of every father.

Woman a Pioneer Geographer

Miss B. Pullen-Berry was the first geographer to visit some of the unknown parts of the Bismarck archipelago.